

Little Tailleur

You may remember this label from our 2008 feature "The Ones To Watch". Little Tailleur is one of our favourite designers with an aesthetic that combines tailoring with couture techniques. With an updated website that includes an online store we can now all indulge in some sumptuous Parisian-influenced designs. Our favourite from the Autumn/Winter collection: the Agatha lace dress. No words can describe this dress. It is just one of those pieces that take your breath away.

Posted in Fashion by Canvas Magazine
Monday, March 30th, 2009

Dawn McKelvie

Don't let the simplicity of this site deter you from the distinctive style and craftsmanship of jewellery designer Dawn McKelvie. With a background in fashion and luxury goods Dawn's signature pieces marry the luxury of leather, a vibrant colour palette and trademark British quirkiness to create pieces that are both individual and edgy.

Posted in Jewellery by Canvas Magazine
Saturday, March 28th, 2009

Celebrate The House

Although winter is fast approaching, the sun gods have found a reason to rejoice as Karen Walker's new eyewear range launches throughout the world. This season adds a fresh element to the eccentric style Karen's Eyewear has become famous for. The collection shifts its focus to bold metal silhouettes but with the same high level of quality fans have become accustomed to.

Posted in Fashion by Canvas Magazine
Thursday, March 19th, 2009

POP! Up